LUNCH and LEARN

The Department of Finance of the Mihaylo College will host a series of “Lunch and Learn” events for the remainder of the Fall 2012 semester. They will be held in the Scott & Deanna O’Brien Room, SGMH 3230.

- We will invite students (by email) to a free lunch to meet faculty in the Department and learn about us and our programs. We expect to be able to invite every student taking a finance class at least once.
- Depending upon the given topic we may invite students randomly, or we may invite targeted student populations (for example, all students currently taking FIN 320).
- We will invite many students and the first 30–35 who respond will be allowed to attend. You will be asked to respond to Dontrell Williams, the Department’s assistant, at dowilliams@fullerton.edu.
- The purpose for these Lunch and Learns is to provide an opportunity for students and faculty to get to know one another outside the classroom, and to provide important information so that you are able to make wise decisions for your education.
- The typical format will be to have two faculty from the Department talk about themselves, their research and/or their job experiences. Each would talk briefly (10–15 minutes) and then have a Q&A session for 15 minutes each.
- We hope to have some evening events as well.
- We will conduct these on an experimental basis, and depending upon feedback, continue for as long as funding permits.
- The next planned L&L will be on Monday, Nov. 5, about the ASAP Program and about FIN 495 the Finance Internship. Other dates may be 11/6, 11/29 & 12/4.

We welcome additional suggestions to improve the communication among all of us, and we will seek feedback from the students attending each event.

Sincerely,

Professor Mark Hoven Stohs
